A BIG WEEK FOR FARM PEOPLE

The top point in the year's agricultural events will take place in Chicago the week beginning November 27 and ending December 4.

In fact, there will be so many things going on in the big city that week, that it will be difficult for one person to see them all.

The main attractions are the International Livestock Exposition, which is held in the Amphitheatre of Chicago Union Stock Yards; the National 4-H Club Congress, headquartered at the Stevens Hotel; and the Second National Farm Show at the Coliseum.

On view at the Livestock Exposition will be the country's finest cattle, hogs, sheep and draft horses. At the 4H Congress some of the nation's finest youngsters will participate, and the Farm Show will have some of the country's leading manufacturers of farm and home equipment displaying their wares.

Besides, there's the International Grain and Hay Show, International Horse Show, and yearly meetings of many leading farm organizations. Between 400,000 and 500,000 people came to Chicago for International week last year and this year's event is expected to beat that record.

Tentative Date Set For Sr. Class Play

Come! See! The senior class play at Orland Park Community High School Gym!

See how the clever senior cast is able to get out of the predicament which follows. The tentative date is set for December 4th.

The Trail of the Lonesome Pine is an absorbing dramatization of John Fox Jr.'s thrilling and vigorous novel in three acts.

The entire action of the play takes place in the interior of the Tolliver cabin at Lonesome Cave, in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Va.

June Tolliver, though born and reared in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, is ignorant of the great outside world. Young Jack Hale, a northerner, comes to the region as a surveyor and as head of a band of police who strive to establish law and order among the mountaineers. At a meeting of Jack and June near the big Lonesome Pine tree, a fine friendship springs up which ripens into love. For years the Tollivers and Falins have been feuding. June's brother, Bub, shoots Buck Falin. Jack, as policeman, comes to the Tolliver cabin where Bub is hiding. Jud Tolliver, June's father, prepares to greet Hale with a rifle. June pleads with her father to allow her to handle the situation. Jud secretes himself where he can keep his rifle trained on Jack. June is torn between her desire to aid her brother and save the life of Jack, whom she has come to love. She lies to Jack and tells him that her brother, Bub, is not there. Then, in order to get him out of the cabin, June tells Jack that she has never cared for him and never wants to see him again.

A. Dunham and sons of Mokena, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tollerud and daughter Jall. A daughter, Mrs. Jack Haislet of St. Lauderdale, Fla., was unable to be present.

In the evening the honored guests greeted friends and neighbors at an open house reception. They were the recipients of many lovely gifts, cards and telegrams. Mr. and Mrs. Tollerud will soon leave for Florida where they will make their permanent home.

NEW PIPE ORGAN GREETED BY HUGE CROWD SUNDAY

The beautiful pipe organ dedicated in the Immanuel Lutheran church last Sunday, more than filled the expectations of the huge crowd which filled the church. Its tones were full, mellow and soft and responded to shading of the music effects in a very splendid way. Under the masterful touch of Prof. Albert Beck, the organ recital which followed at the close of the dedicatory service was much appreciated. The music which he played brought forth the many ranges of tones of the organ.

The organ, which cost $5,000, is all paid for except about $1,000 and much of that was received in the collection Sunday.

Rev. Herman Bauer of the Peace Lutheran church in Chicago brought a special message which all enjoyed. The choir, under the able leadership of Rev. A. W. Gode, rendered several selections.

At the close of the service, refreshments were served in the basement of the church to the 350 people attending.

Thanksgiving Editorial

When ever I think of Thanksgiving, invariably my thoughts go back to school days when we celebrated Thanksgiving. There was a special program and our parents came to school to see we youngsters recite pieces, and sing of take part in a playlet. These always centered around the Pilgrims; how they came to this country, all new and barren as far as population was concerned; how they always had to carry their guns with them; of their battles with Indians, how they struggled to make a home; how about this time of year, they, being of a religious nature, decided a special thanks should be given to the One who had blessed them, because now they had a home, food and things were going pretty fair.

They truly must have been thankful! And every year now, we in a matter-of-fact way, write and talk from our pulpits etc., how much we have to be thankful for, and then it seems we sort of forget all about the bounty we receive, until another year. Well, not all. For many do remember the Source of our good, every day.

But for us today. What have we to be thankful for? True, we have had a most unusual harvest for which we should be thankful. We are not really suffering in this country in anyway near as those in the war torn countries. Does our large harvest mean only to us, how much money it will bring?

The Pilgrims came to this country to get away from the oppression of their home land. What was that oppression? War? Yes, and lack of freedom also. But here in this country, our strong point of talk is, The Land of the Free. But we have wars, much more cruel, than those of the Pilgrim's time.

It seems to me, if we could be thankful, a little bit for the Spirit of Peace at this time, and try to develop it and listen to its voice, so that we would again be a country to go to in order to avoid oppression, we could overcome war. In that respect I offer you the following verses, written by a member of the Peace committee of the National Federation of Press Women. I hope you will enjoy it.

Truly, may your Thanksgiving be happy.

THE VOICE OF PEACE

By Isabel Whitehouse Toppin

Hear ye the ageless voice of Peace
When shall the earth bid wars to cease?

When shall the brave in every land
Unite in purpose, hand in hand,
That Peace, victorious over War
May reign and sons be slain no more?

How long shall women bear and weep?
How long, how long will women sleep?

List! For the voice, once far away,
Becomes a clarion call today—
"Women, arise - Triumphant be
O'er self and fear and apathy.
In equal rank with men, arise
And face with them new, glowing skies!"

Piercing the mist where women weep,
The summons comes—"Awake from sleep!"

The dawning of a better day
For all mankind is on its way,
And wearsome shadows of earth's night

Will vanish with the morning light

But Woman, on the threshold gray
Must usher in the glad new day.

To wakened eyes, each rainbow-ed tear

Will pass away in sunshine clear.

"Awake! Love for Humanity is calling you and calling me,
Arise, in strength of righteousness
With heart and hand and power of Press

And all means at our command
To save our own and every land!
Women, arise, O'er shadows deep Hold high your lamps, and vigil keep.

"Awake, arise" 'Tis God above
Who speaks through Peace and human love.

More powerful than atomic bomb
And all war weapons, comes His calm

With 'still small voice', each wrong to right—

"Arise, go forward in His might!"
How long shall War make earth to weep?

So long, so long as women sleep.

The answer is, the American Motorcycle Association sponsored an obstacle ride, which started from Van Buren st. in Chicago. Their leader led them over many roads which were not always in first class condition, and their aim was to return to their source with in a given time and in good condition.

CROP PROGRAM GETS UNDER WAY

Sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief, there are now in Illinois 92 counties organized for the purpose of completing the Christian Rural Overseas program. The purpose of this organization is to get contributions in kind, meaning crops, for the purpose of overseas relief. Owing to the high moisture content of the corn crop and shortness of time it was not deemed wise to try and take grain contributions, and this cash will be used to purchase food products of these grains for shipments overseas.

There seems to be a lack of knowledge as to how this program is to be handled. This is the way it works—there has been a co-chairman appointed for each township in Will County. It is the duty of this co-chairman to contact all the clergy of all denominations and ask them to set up their own church organization for the betterment of his program. It is the intention that each church or parish will make its own contribution in this manner toward the completion of the program. Each denomination will receive credit in full for the amount they have contributed, which will in turn be distributed by these same denominations to the needy people in Europe.

CROP WEEK in Will County begins November 21st and ends on November 28th. In this week the program must be completed for Will County.

The Will County officers of the Christian Rural Overseas program are: C. F. Steigle, Wheatland township, chairman; Rev. W. M. Ducey, Wilton township, Vice chairman of Catholic Rural Life; Rev. J. F. Speer, Joliet, Vice chairman of Church World Service; Rev. Leonard Renke, New Lenox, Vice chairman of Lutheran World Relief; Mr. Ralph Kemmerer, Wheatland township, Vice chairman for Layman; Rev. Milton Heitzman, Lockport township, secretary; Mrs. George Freis, Florence township, treasurer; Mrs. Edward McDonald, Jackson township, publicity.

The eyes of the world are focused on the generous people of our state. It is the hope of this organization that the farmers and city-dwellers of Illinois and especially Will County, will prove that they are among the best neighbors in the world.

It is highly important that every individual indicate the parent agency he wishes to distribute his contribution overseas, because careful check is made of this and each parent group will be given his share of the commodities according to those designations.

The township co-chairmen in this area: Lockport, John Alexander, Wilmington; Homer, Frank Loucks, Wilmington; New Lenox, Mrs. Ivan Archibald, New Lenox; Frankfort, Arthur Geuther, Rt. 1, Mokena; Manhattan, Dr. C. M. Faulkner, Manhattan; Green Garden, Arthur Sippel, Monee; Monee, Allen Hamilton, Monee; Crete, Mrs. Roy Elb, Crete; Peotone, Conrad Borms Rt. 1, Peotone.

SHIRLEY LORENZ AND WILLIAM TUTTLE MARRIED

At a lovely service performed in the St. John Evangelical church in Mokena Sunday afternoon November 21, Miss Shirley Lorenz became the bride of Mr. William Tuttle. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. William Riemann, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

Preceding the ceremony, bridal aires were played on the organ by Mrs. Roy Kropp. She also accompanied Mrs. Adolph Steen when she sang, "Because", "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lorenz of Orland Park and the groom is the son of Mrs. Louis Schmidt of Tinley Park.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a fingertip veil. Her only jewelry was a necklace of pearls and her arm bouquet was white carnations.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Herman Vanderwall of Harvey served as matron of honor. She wore a rose taffeta gown and carried aqua carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Yunker, cousin of the bride, wore an aqua gown and carried pink carnations.

Mrs. Lorenz, mother of the bride, wore a brown dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Schmidt wore a black dress. Each wore a corsage of white carnations. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Yunker and Mrs. Louis Schmidt Sr., grandmother of the groom each had white carnation corsages.

A six o'clock dinner was served in the church parlors for 70 guests. During the reception, Glen Tuttle, brother of the groom sang, "Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

The table decorations were carried out in aqua and rose using button chrysanthemums.

A three tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and groom and candles graced the bridal table.

The bride was graduated from the Orland Park high school.

Santa Claus in Parade Sunday

The opening ceremonies will take place this Sunday, November 28 for 159th street and the Dedication of the new viaduct. The parade which will interest young as well as old, will assemble at 154th street and Cicero avenue on the west side of the street at 2:00 p. m.

The line of march will proceed south to 159th street and Cicero avenue where the ribbons will be cut, and then westward on the new highway to 159th and Laramie avenue around he block and back to the east side of Leclaire avenue around the block and back to the east side of Leclaire avenue.

From this corner Judge William Meyers will call the lineup for his soap box derby. Contestants for the derby are asked to lineup in front of Bobbit's Diner at 2:00 p. m. They will not be expected to be in the parade. President Barr will introduce notables present who may say a few words.

In the parade will be "Santa Claus" in keeping with the approach of the Christmas season who will delight the youngsters and if they are good, possibly have something for them. Santa Claus is being sponsored by the Business Men's association.

Convertible cars are being secured so that the queen and her attendants may be seen during the parade and yet can be protected in case of bad weather. They will be decorated with balloons and other guests will be on parade in them.

This parade although coming late in the year will be in another sense of the word at an ideal time. It is during the Thanksgiving weekend and residents in Oak Forest are certainly thankful at this time for the completion of the highway rather than waiting until spring as was the thought for awhile.

Thanksgiving for the WORLD!

Once again, it's harvest-time. Here, in this nation are bumper crops . . well-fed, happy people . . real Thanksgiving spirit! But this joy and plenty are missing in many of our "neighbor" countries . . and, today, all countries are our "neighbors" . . for the world needs food badly. People cannot be hungry and contented (or peaceful) at the same time. The American farmer, constantly striving to produce greater and greater amounts of food, hides, wool has made this the wealthiest country in the world. Today, he bows his head in thanks for another prosperous year and shows his gratitude by sharing with those less fortunate than he.

FOOD is the best world-wide ambassador of good will

So. Cook Co. Girl Scouts To Be Hosts At Int. Encampment

Girl Scouts of South Cook county, with a total membership of more than 3000 in twenty-one suburban communities, will be hosts next summer to the scouts of many of the other nations of the western hemisphere and the North and South American possessions of Great Britain, France and the Netherlands at Camp Manissee, the new Girl Scout camp near Muskegon, Mich. The encampment will be held July 19 to August 9th.

Invitations have been sent to Girl Scout organizations in Canada, and the following South and Central American countries: Brazil, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, El Salvador, Mexico, Costa Rica, and Haiti.

Invitations also have been issued to organizations in England, France and Holland to send scouts from their western hemisphere possessions.

Each country is invited to send two girls who are between the ages of sixteen and eighteen and are qualified senior scouts.

Two girls each from the Panama

Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and Alaska as well as from the Navaho Indian reservation also have been invited to attend.

The assistance of all Girl Scout organizations in South Cook county in carrying out this international encampment was asked at a special meeting of the Area Council held November 16 in the Thornton township high school, Harvey, according to Robert G. Garlock, president of Riverside, Ill.

The Girl Guides, as the Girl Scouts are called in other countries, will occupy a separate camp site. After their camp closes many of them will be guests in the homes of girl scouts of South Cook county and elsewhere in the United States. It was announced by Mrs. Ben Alston, camp advisor in the Chicago area for the Girl Scouts of the United States of America, the sponsor of the international encampment.

The camp, comprising one thousand wooded acres of high ground is located 25 miles north east of Muskegon, Mich., and bisected by the White river.

The South Cook County communities having Girl Scout organizations who will be hosts to the girls from foreign countries, are: Blue Island, Chicago

Stay-At-Home Vote

(Compiled and Issued by Congressman N. M. Mason)

Illinois has 5,000,000 registered voters entitled to vote, but only 4,000,000 of them voted on November 2. Therefore there were 1,000,000 voters, or 20% of the total, that failed to exercise their franchise. They were either not interested in the election or they felt their votes were not needed and would not be missed.

The Fifteenth Illinois Congressional District is an average district. It is typical downstate district. The Fifteenth District has 196,130 registered voters entitled to vote and only 139,942 voters in the Fifteenth District voted on November 2nd. That means 56,188 voters, or 28 1/2% of our voters, failed to vote—a greater percentage of our voters failed to vote than the State average. The answer to this is that in the large cities, a greater percentage of the registered voters voted, because the city "vote getting machinery"

Heights, Dolton, Evergreen Park; Flossmoor, Harvey, Homewood; Ivanhoe; Riverdale, Matteson, Burbank Manor, Chicago Ridge, Glenview, Oak Lawn, South Holland; Forest Ridge; Hazel Crest, Markham; McArthur, Midlothian and Palos Heights.

Other communities which later may be associated with the South Cook county Girl Scout organization include: Burnham, Calumet Park, Dixon, East Hazel Crest, Glenwood; Lemont, Oak Forest, Merinette Park; Olympia Fields, Orland Park, Palos Park, Posen, Robbins; Tinley Park, Thornton, Willow Springs and Worth.

Farm Bureau Special Train Tour Planned

More than 450 reservations have been sent in by Illinois farm couples for the three all-expense train trips to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual convention at Atlantic City, N. J. December 13-16. The trains carrying the vacationing farm couples will combine sightseeing and vacationing trips to and from the convention.

Two of the trains will go a southern route through Florida and up the Atlantic seaboard to Washington, D. C.

A third train will travel an eastern route through New York City, Williamsburg, Va., and United Nations headquarters at Lake Success.

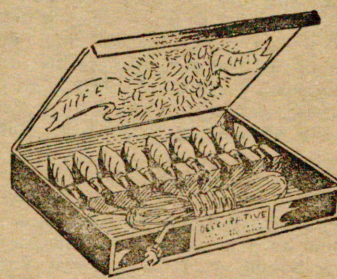

Other train trips are being organized by farm bureaus in Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Georgia; Mississippi; Arkansas; Tennessee and California.

The Illinoisians will be given a taste of southern hospitality when members of the Alabama Farm Bureau take both train loads of Illinois farmers on a car tour to Wilson Dam, a part of the TVA system. Later they will be treated to a barbecue and rodeo at a large ranch near Ocala, Florida. Those going from Cook county are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Moehling, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pohlman, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Urban Hoffman. Those on the Eastern trip will visit U. N. headquarters at Lake Success, Williamsburg, Washington, D. C.

Beltsville, Md.—the U. S. Department of Agriculture experimental farm.

Each fighting man in the Navy consumes over a ton of food yearly; each ton requires 60 cubic feet of shipping space, about ten times the storage space of a standard home refrigerator.

Television on the Farm

Buck Childs' home has become mighty popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.

Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being telecast. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).

While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.

And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)

A MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM YOUR FORD DEALER

THE ILLINOIS MICHIGAN CANAL A SUPERHIGHWAY

Chicago is and has been, since the retreat of the last glacier, the key to the Middle West. The Potawatomi, Chippewa and Ottawa Indians were but the last of a long succession of Indian tribes to hold this region because of its strategic importance. In 1674, Louis Joliet, returning with Father

Marquette from a voyage of discovery, reported to the Jesuit Superior that in order to travel by boat from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico it would be necessary to make but "...one canal intersecting only half a league of prairie in order to enter from the foot of the lake of the Illinois (Lake Michigan) into the river of St. Louis (Illinois River)."

By 1803, the fur trade in the Northwest Territory had become so important that Fort Dearborn was established. The war of 1812 emphasized the necessity of a route over which military and naval forces and supplies could be readily transported to the northern frontier. In 1816, an Indian treaty granted to the United States a strip of land 20 miles wide along the route of a proposed waterway from the mouth of the Chicago River down the Des Plaines and Illinois river valleys. The bill for the admission of Illinois as a state was amended to shove its boundary, from an east and west line drawn thru the southerly bend of Lake Michigan, north to its present location in order that the proposed canal might be entirely within and constructed by the new state—thus serving, with the Erie Canal then building, to link the Atlantic Ocean with the Mississippi valley.

In 1822, Daniel P. Cook and Jesse B. Thomas, respectively congressman and senator from Illinois, obtained from the federal government a grant of the public domain consisting of a strip of land for the proposed canal and 90 feet on each side of it. In 1829, Cook (for whom the County of Cook was named) was also instrumental in obtaining passage of an act by which the federal government donated to Illinois, for the purpose of financing the construction of the canal, alternate sections of land for a distance of five miles on each side of it.

A canal commission was appointed, consisting of Gen. William F. Thornton, Col. Gurdon Saltonstall Hubbard and Col. William B. Archer, and in 1829 the towns of Ottawa and Chicago were laid out. On July 4, 1836, with a great celebration at Canal Port, the first spadeful of dirt was dug and the job begun. Due to floods, labor scarcity and the panic of 1837, little progress was made before work was abandoned in 1842. Resumed in 1845, the canal, 96 miles long from Bridgeport (just east of Ashland Ave. at about 28th St.) to Peru-LaSalle, was completed and opened for traffic in 1848. The first boat to pass thru the entire length of the canal was the Gen. Thornton of LaSalle, with a cargo of sugar.

Immediately the canal became a tremendous factor in the development of Chicago and northern Illinois. The produce of the Illinois valley, formerly shipped to St. Louis, began to pour into Chicago. Merchandise from the east, via the Erie Canal and the Great Lakes, poured down the canal to the river towns rapidly being extended northward and westward. In 1839 there were only 1310 people in that part of Illinois north of Peoria. By 1850 there were 125,708, largely concentrated in Chicago and along the waterway.

As far southwest as Lawndale Ave.

In Summit, the canal is to become a depressed superhighway with a connection to U. S. 66. From there to LaSalle it will be developed as a state park for recreational use. Almost forgotten, the old I. & M. stands today as a reminder of its contribution to the birth and growth of Chicago. This is the centennial of its opening.

Special Stamp for 85th Anniversary of Gettysburg Address

The United States postage stamp to be issued in commemoration of the 85th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address is believed to be the first stamp ever issued commemorating a speech, Dr. Louis A. Warren, Historian of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, stated in commenting on the projected issue.

The stamp will go on sale November 19 at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

"In previous years, there have been four commemorative stamps issued with an Abraham Lincoln association," said Dr. Warren.

"A 15-cent postage stamp bearing the portrait of Abraham Lincoln was issued on April 15, 1866. It was released on the first anniversary day of Lincoln's death.

"A special 2-cent stamp was issued in February, 1909, in commemoration of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

"The third commemorative issue was a 3-cent stamp introduced October 20, 1940 to memorialize the 75th Anniversary of the Emancipation Amendment to the Constitution. It featured a statue which showed Lincoln and a slave with his shackles broken.

"The fourth was a 5-cent stamp memorializing the fifth anniversary of the beginning of the Chinese-Japanese War, and was first issued at Denver, Colorado on July 7, 1942. Abraham Lincoln is shown on this stamp, which carried an inscription of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address in both English and Chinese."

Bacterial wilt of alfalfa was first discovered in 1924 in northern Illinois.

RODENTS STRIP TREE BARK WHEN FOOD IS SCARCE

When snow blankets the countryside and rodents find it difficult to forage for food, rabbits, squirrels, gophers, mice and moles may be impelled by hunger and self-preservation to chew up some of your favorite trees.

Prized ornamentals and tender saplings may fall victim to their slashing teeth unless you do something about it now. Br'er Rabbit is a cute little fellow, but if hungry enough he can wreak arboreal havoc, warns C. O. Brittain, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Protective bark can be stripped to a dangerous extent by the rabbit and his kin. The mole probably does the least damage to bark or roots. However, his runways are used by the smaller rodents to gnaw at the tidbits.

Most dependable protection against the marauders is a mechanical guard —a screen or mesh cylinder placed around the trunk. The guard should be placed several inches from the bark to avoid bruising and should be held firmly in place.

Of course, many folk like to have friendly rabbits and squirrels about their grounds and shudder at the thought of these poor creatures being deprived of their only food. There's a simple answer to this, too. Simply provide them with suitable edibles. Rabbits like apples, carrots, cabbage, and dry corn.

When there's nothing else on the menu, the little fellows have to go on the bark diet.

Former Naval Reserve officers, now transferred to the regular Navy, are urged to attend general line schools at either Monterey, Calif., or Newport, R.I., where 44 weeks of training brings their service education up to a stage theoretically equalling that of U.S. Naval Academy graduates.

November 1-7 will be National 4H Club Achievement Week, announce 4H Club specialists at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Farmers Urged to Complete Conservation Practice by Dec. 31

Mr. Conrad Borms, Chairman of the Will County AAA committee, today pointed out that the time for completing conservation practices under the 1948 ACP Program is fast slipping away. "All practices," he explained, "must be completed by December 31, 1948 if they are to be eligible for assistance under the program."

Chairman Borms called attention to the fact that many times weather conditions during November and December are not favorable for doing conservation work. Farmers are, therefore, urged to hit the ball at every opportunity in an effort to complete their approved practices before bad weather interferes. "Conditions are particularly ideal," he said, "for spreading limestone and phosphates. Not only are weather and ground conditions good, but with the rapid harvesting of beans and corn, many fields are available for spreading operations."

Far too many people are plagued with the habit of delaying on conservation work, commented Mr. Borms. "As a result," he said, "they not only lose payments that they might otherwise earn but they also stand by and see their land decrease in productivity. I sincerely hope that this doesn't happen to very many of our farmers again this year."

Farmers were also reminded that under present program regulations it is necessary for them to report completed practices to the county office, Room 214, Farm Bureau Building, Joliet.

In conclusion, Mr. Borms urged that every farmer seriously review his conservation plan and make an attempt to get as much of the job done as possible. He again emphasized the need for completing the work before December 31 if the farmer expects to earn assistance under the 1948 ACP Program.

"One of the first bathtubs in the U. S. was installed in the White House by President Monroe . . . A typical example of Republican waste of government money," cried the Democrats cheerfully, and when Andrew Jackson came into office, one of his first acts was to get the bathtub removed."—John Nesbitt on WGN-WGNB's "Passing Parade."

List 68 Books for "Reading for Dem'cy"

Penny and Pat, the Toodle Twins of comic strip fame, enliven the cover of the fifth annual "Reading for Democracy" book list just published by the Chicago Women's division of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The 1948-49 "Reading For Democracy" booklet, which combines for the first time lists of both children and adults books, features reading suggestions relating to the subject of human relations and instrumental in fostering better intergroup understanding.

Containing a total list of 68 books with a cover designed by the Baers, the book list project is part of a year-round NCCJ program to promote "justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among all peoples."

Miss Mary Alice Jones, children's editor of Rand McNally, wrote in a forward to the children's section of the book list that "books such as those on this list for children will fortify the child against prejudice and strengthen in him the desire and purpose to live in the light of truth."

In his forward to the adult section, Dr. Preston Bradley remarked that the "opportunity of becoming familiar with the best thoughts of the best minds is a potent factor in cultivating the desire for freedom in an individual, reading the thoughts of heroic and adventuresome minds in the field of freedom quickens our appreciation of it, and inspires us to preserve it."

The children's list, the chairman of which is Mrs. Joseph Rollins, children's librarian, Hall Branch library, includes Is It Hard? Is It Easy? by Mary McBurney Green; Two Is a Team, by Lorraine and Jerrold Beim; This is the World, by Josephine Van Dolzen Pease; The Lost Violin, by Clara Ingram Judson; By Secret Railway, by Enid Meadowcroft; You and the United Nations, by Lois Fisher; Trudy Terrell, by Bernice Bryant; Dr. George Washington Carver, by Shirley Graham and George D. Lipscomb; Nehru of India, by Cornelia Spencer, and Peoples of the Earth, by Edwin Embree.

Mrs. John J. Ballenger is chairman of the adult book list committee.

Among the selections are: The Great Rehearsal, by Carl Von Doren; Free Trade, Free World by Oswald Garrison Villard; A Study of History, by Arnold J. Toynbee; Democracy and Progress, by David McCord; All Manner of Men, by Malcolm Ross; Patrick Calls Me Mother, by Ann Barley; The Crusaders, by Stephan Heym; A Mask For Privilege, by Cary McWilliams; A Little Democracy Is a Dangerous Thing, by Charles W. Ferguson; More Perfect Union by R. M. MacIver, and Man's Last Choice, by R. M. Friedwald.

SLEEP IN WARM COMFORT WITH AN ELECTRIC BLANKET

Wouldn't it be fun to double-cross the weather on cold winter nights? You'd sleep right through without getting up to hunt for extra blankets or waking to pull one from the foot of the bed. With an electric blanket or comforter you can blissfully ignore the thermometer . . . open the windows wide and slip into a bed already warm.

Even mounds and mounds of ordinary blankets only insulate from the cold . . . but an electric blanket or comforter produces just the right amount of warmth no matter how the temperature shifts. You set the automatic control only once a season—from then on the electric blanket adjusts automatically to changing room temperatures.

You'll wake refreshed and relaxed. The weight of layers of covers is tiring . . . one electric blanket or comforter gives you warmth without weight. "Cold spots" are banished, too—your bed is sunny warm all over.

Lovely electric blankets and comforters launder and clean as beautifully as ordinary blankets or comforters. The only difference lies in having only one per bed to launder and store for the summer months—not three or four.

You've been promising yourself a really good night's sleep for a long time . . . do something about it today.

Go to your dealer or Public Service Company and get the details of real sleeping comfort.

General Electric Automatic Blanket—Choice of rose, blue, green and cedar. 72" x 86" big enough for a double bed, price $39.95.*

(TOO LATE FOR LAST WEEK)

The Cub Scouts, Pack 69, are planning a mammoth Christmas Pack meeting to be held at Ann Rutledge school Saturday, Dec. 18. The meeting will consist of a pot luck dinner followed by Christmas Carols, trimming of the den trees, gifts, and advancement ceremonies. Special speakers for the evening will be Mr. Juderbach and Mr. White of the Rainbow Council at Joliet. Parents and families of the Cubs are urged to attend as this will be the boy's main event of the year.

Plans are going steadily ahead for the Ann Rutledge P.T.A. bazaar to be held in the school Dec. 4. Work is being completed on a beautiful quilt which will be sold. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steck, owners of the furniture factory on Hillside Rd. are kindly donating a child's platform rocker which can be bought for a nominal price.

Four sets of Dad's and sons spent Armistice Day pheasant hunting: Frank Steck and sons, Walter Carter and sons and Steve Studniki and son, and Alfred Gotter and sons were the sportsmen. It's a matter of discussion among the boys as to which team came out best.

Who's afraid of rain? Wednesday, Nov. 10, the primary children from Ann Rutledge school braved a downpour on their noon hour to sell 32 tickets for the P.T.A. card party which was held Nov. 20.

What are Cubs good for? During the recent illness of Mrs. Bradley, Ronnie Studniki, Sonny Vaughn and Don Carter pitched in to do a fine job of keeping the school spic and span.

The open house held at Ann Rutledge Nov. 12 was a great success. Almost all the parents visited the school that day in observance of National Education Week.

Mr. MacWharther of 80th Ave. recently returned from a trip to California.

Monday night, Nov. 8, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Davidson attended a workshop meeting at Schmuhl school on Lincoln Highway. These meetings are held for the Lincoln highway drive of Will County Teacher's Association. Among other things, bills before Congress relating to the school system were discussed. The subject last Monday was "National Education."

Mrs. Robert Wheeler enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Curtis Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rowe and their three children from Minocqua, Wis., Nov. 11. Mr. and Mrs. Art Wilson of 80th Ave. had their baby girl christened Sunday, Nov. 14, in St. Agnes Church in Chicago Heights. The christening party was held at the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents in Chicago Heights.

Mrs. John Kay of 78th Ave. spent part of last week with friends in Chicago. Mr. Kay and his son "Porky" attended the International Live Stock show in Chicago last Saturday.

Mr. Walter Carter, Hillside Rd. flew to New York Nov. 4 for a short business trip.

Purebred Boar Best

A good purebred boar will sire larger than average litters, and under good management these pigs will reach market weight at six months of age, says Harry G. Russell, livestock specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

It's to your advantage to use a purebred boar if you possibly can in your swine-breeding program this fall, he advised.

Purebred boars are expensive, but they're worth the price, Russell says. No one thing can do more to improve your herd than a good purebred boar.

"In choosing a purebred boar, I'd emphasize length, depth and smoothness of side," Russell declared. "He should also be full in the ham, firm-fleshed, even in width from front to rear and have a trim underline."

Mour purebred herd sire should also have good bone and be sound in his feet and legs, he added. The animal should be masculine and typical of his breed in the head and ears.

The boar should come from a high-producing strain of hogs. The sows in his pedigree should farrow consistently large litters and wean consistently large litters of uniformly good pigs.

Good Farm Leases Are Important

With the landlord-tenant system of farm operation prevalent in over half of the most fertile midwest farm land, the kind of leasing practices used are very important, points out the Prairie Farmer in its November 20 edition. This is the second of a series of articles telling how landlords and tenants can work together successfully.

First of all, the lease should be written. Second, there are several types of farm leases, and it is up to the owner and tenant to decide on the one that best fits their needs. In Illinois there are five common types of leases; the cash lease, the crop-share cash lease, the share lease, the live-stock-share lease, and manager-operator agreements.

The crop-share cash lease is the most common. In this the tenant gives a share of the grain crops and pays cash rent for the use of the buildings, pasture and hay land. However, increasing in popularity is the livestock-share lease, in which the farmer owner also shares the ownership of livestock. This type of lease has the advantage that the landlord is more closely connected with the management of the farm.

200 Bushel Per Acre Corn Yield

Herman Barrett of Gibson County, Indiana, produced right around 200 bushels per acre on 5 acres of corn this year. This same plot won the corn producing championship in 1941 with 190.2 bushels per acre. But it took special soil preparation each year from 1944 to prepare the land for its present big production.

The story of how the high production is achieved by plowing under the alfalfa and soybeans several times and using a heavy application of fertilizer is told in the November 20 Prairie Farmer.

It cost 251 million dollars for maintenance of the entire Navy in 1935; in 1945 the Navy's food bill alone was over 670 million.

Installs New System To Speed Toll Calls

Joliet's long distance telephone operators, starting with the new year, will "dial" calls direct to any one of the 1,610,000 telephones in Chicago and 23 of its suburbs, or to any dial telephone in 230 communities throughout the country, it was announced here today by R. F. McQueen, manager for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

The new service will considerably shorten the time needed to start conversation on many long distance calls, if they are normally routed over voice highways being opened up to operator dialing. Among the more distant points which will be reached from Joliet by the new service are Hartford, Conn., Youngstown, Ohio, and Sacramento, Calif.

Customers will place the call exactly as before McQueen explained. The operator, however, will speed the signals from her long distance switchboard in much the same way a local call is made from a dial telephone except she will press a series of keys rather than turn a dial.

Tone signals will leap forward by direct circuit to the new 11-story, long distance center in downtown Chicago or to one of two similar centers in New York City and Philadelphia, depending on the routing of the call. An electric brain in the center receiving the signals will interpret them with almost unmeasurable speed, and guide the call through automatic switches to the desired telephone.

"Introduction of operator dialing will mark the first step in this area of a nation-wide, Bell System plan," the manager pointed out. "A network of super-speed voice highways and switching centers is now taking shape. Eventually, all long distance throughout the country will be handled this way, making possible even simpler, speedier long distance service, already greatly improved since the war."

Operator dialing from Joliet will gradually be extended to reach other exchanges in Illinois and the nation.

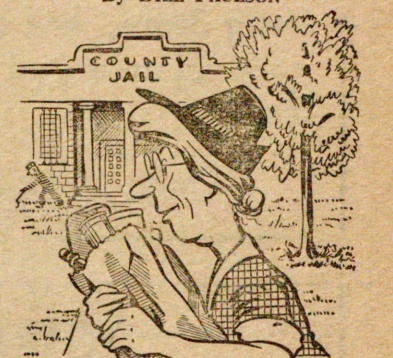

The new Chicago long distance center will be a key point in the nation-wide network. Its opening soon, together with special long distance dialing equipment recently installed here, are two major factors in Illinois Bell territory making the new service possible.

The same new service will also be in use on calls from communities whose long distance is handled through the Joliet exchange, McQueen pointed out. These communities include Briardwood, Elwood, Frankfort, Lockport, Manhattan, Minooka, Mokena, New Lenox, Plainfield, Plattville and Wilmington.

In addition to Joliet, other Illinois Bell exchanges joining the long distance network are Alton, Aurora, Decatur, Peoria, Rockford, and Springfield. As part of the same plan, telephones in Joliet, Alton, Aurora and Decatur will be dialed direct by operators from many exchanges in the nation-wide network.

Long distance calls to all points are now flowing through from Joliet at the average speed of around a minute—faster than was possible during the war—with nine tenths of them going through while the customer holds the line, McQueen said.

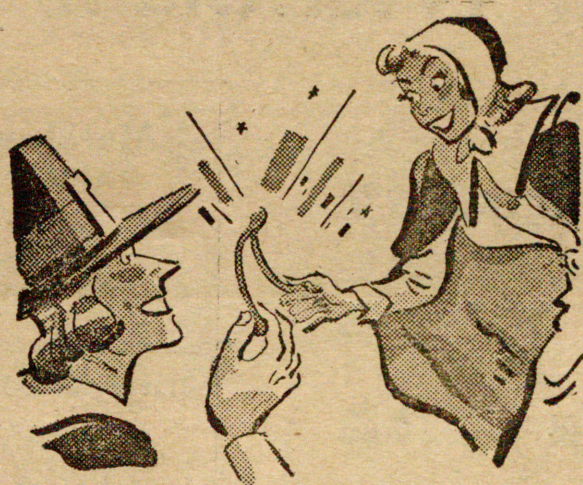

"These improvements," he added, "are made possible by the addition of many switchboards and thousands of miles of long distance circuits throughout the country—all a part of the Bell System's big service improvement program."
